Local nonprofit brings expertise to Price Hill Classes begin soon on how to start your own business

(Cincinnati, OH) - The Greater Cincinnati Microenterprise Initiative (GCMi) will be offering an Entrepreneurial Training Academy (ETA) this spring. The course will teach individuals how to develop a small business plan, provide one-on-one technical assistance, and help aspiring entrepreneurs find access to capital and other small business resources. Orientation will be held:

Monday, April 13, 2009
6:00 – 7:30 p.m.
Elder High School, Schaeper Center
3900 Vincent Ave, Cincinnati, OH 45205

Classes will be held every Monday (except Memorial Day), April 20 – July 13, 6:00 – 9:00 p.m., at this same location.

The course enrollment fee varies and is based on household size and income. Individuals who complete the ETA will receive business coaching technical assistance for their first year at no extra charge. Please contact Kim Brown at 513-569-4816 x 2428 to register or for more information.

GCMi has been helping individuals turn their small business dreams into a reality for over 10 years. The nonprofit agency works to promote individual self-sufficiency and community economic development by stimulating and supporting entrepreneurship among low to moderate-income people. GCMi business coaches and support staff have over 60 years combined experience in small business and financial services. For more information about GCMi, please visit the website at www.gcmi.org.
