Letters like this present a unique challenge. On one hand, we are excited to share our success over the last 12 months and point to the many accomplishments that you will find in the pages to follow. On the other hand, our eagerness is tempered by the recognition that the fight against poverty continues to be an uphill battle. In Hamilton County, the poverty rate is the highest it has been since 1960. Even more troubling is that Cincinnati’s child poverty rate is one of the worse in the nation. Yet, in the midst of this sobering reality, there are victories.

There is the young man who walks through our doors looking to learn a trade so that he can provide for his family. We facilitate that training and, upon completion, we help him get a job in his newly chosen profession that pays a livable wage. That’s a victory. Thanks to Head Start, there is a young girl sitting in her third grade class who is reading and comprehending above grade level. She will go on to be the first person in her family to graduate from college. That’s a victory. There is a parent agonizing over the decision to keep the lights on or to put food on the table every day this week, due to her economic constraints. Thanks to the utility assistance that we offer, that’s no longer a decision that she must make. Thanks to community services, there is a family who filed their Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC) for the first time and received a refund that helped them to get sorely needed transportation. These are just several examples of victories that happen every day at CAA, thanks to our staff and stakeholders.

And while there is so much more to do, we understand that we are not in this alone. We are a piece of a larger pie consisting of other non-profits, governmental agencies, corporate partners, funders and volunteers. And with your continued support, we will keep making a difference in the lives of as many people as possible, helping to make Greater Cincinnati a community that we can all be proud of.

Head Start provides high quality early childhood education to preschoolers using evidence-based best practices in and out of the classroom to prepare children for kindergarten and beyond.
CAA has operated Head Start for nearly 50 years and continues to collaborate with dozens of other agencies and programs to provide medical, dental, mental health, nutrition, and social services to children and their families. This group comprises one of the largest and most successful consortium of services aimed at helping low-income children in Hamilton County to succeed. Longitudinal studies show that low-income children enrolled in Head Start are more likely to graduate from high school and continue on to college than their low-income peers who didn’t attend preschool.

CAA has two self-operated sites — one is our Life & Learning Center in Bond Hill at our main location and the other is the Theodore M. Berry Center located in the West End. We also have five outstanding delegate agencies that we contract with to provide Head Start and Early Head Start in their locations: Cincinnati Public Schools, University of Cincinnati Arlitt Center, Cincinnati Union Bethel, Every Child Succeeds and the YMCA.

In 2014–15 our program was available in 25 neighborhoods and in 91 classrooms, and we provided home visitation and home school. Through our program we enhanced the early learning experiences of 1745 Head Start and 300 Early Head Start children and families.

Early Head Start serves pregnant women, infants, and toddlers up to age three, working to help the smallest members of our community receive what they need during this critical time in their development. This includes providing new and expecting mothers with home visits and prenatal education.

Home-School and Home Visitation bring Head Start services and curriculum to the doorstep of parents who choose to keep their children home for preschool. It is a comprehensive program that addresses all service areas of Head start. They provide weekly lessons and activities designed to address the individual needs and learning pace of each child. Children also learn through socialization with their peers during regular visits to our centers.

SUCCESS STORY

At CAA, Maverick Powell is one of many Head Start parent success stories. Maverick has two sons, one is currently a Head Start student and another will soon be joining Early Head Start. From the time his older son joined Head Start, Maverick has been heavily involved in the program. He has served as Vice President of the Parent Committee, Parent Ambassador for Ohio Head Start Associated Inc., and was elected to Policy Council at CAA.

Maverick found the Head Start program at CAA through a web search for daycares and preschools. At the time, he was working 3rd shift at a group home and had his son during the days, so he struggled with any time to sleep or take care of everyday tasks. Once his son enrolled at Head Start, Maverick became active within the program by participating in the activities at the Life Learning Center. As he became more involved in the program, he got to know the Head Start staff. They introduced him to opportunities within CAA, encouraged him to continue his education and helped him to realize his full potential. Maverick has now joined the Fatherhood Engagement Movement at CAA and became a licensed minister at his church. He has attained his Associates Degree, is currently working towards his Bachelors and plans to continue on for a Masters Degree.

Maverick recently began a new job as a Teacher’s Assistant with CAA at the Theodore M. Berry Head Start Center. He works during the day and is able to be at home with his sons each evening.

In an effort to assist Hamilton County youth in building brighter futures, CAA offers several different programs through our Youth Services Department. Through the various programs, CAA helps young adults ages 14–24 to acquire the knowledge and skills necessary to lead self-sufficient, adult lives.
YouthBuild Construction & Training Program provides Hamilton County’s at-risk young men and women with the support and education they need to begin a promising career.

Blueprint for Success is a nine-month pre-apprenticeship construction training program providing classroom instruction and hands-on experience. The program helps to assist young adults, ages 18–30, obtain a new, promising livelihood by providing intensive supportive services coupled with educational and vocational training, promoting self-sufficiency.

The Summer Youth Employment Program (SYEP) provides youth the opportunity to work entry-level jobs at community-based organizations, law firms, and health care facilities, among other types of employers. The program introduces youth to the workplace, imparts valuable employment skills, and provides these young adults with a summer income.

CDL In July, CAA’s Youth Services department launched a new Commercial Driver’s License (CDL) program as part of Mayor John Cranley’s Hand Up Initiative, a city partnership with top job readiness programs to address the issues of unemployment and poverty.
In 2007, Kourtnie Daugherty graduated from Withrow International High School in Cincinnati, Ohio and planned to play basketball in college. After blowing out her knee and missing her opportunity for a collegiate athletic career, she began a new chapter in her life.

Kourtnie challenged the norm by enrolling in Blueprint for Success at CAA, a program that provides classroom instruction, as well as hands-on training, to prepare individuals for a career in the construction industry. She not only rose to the challenge, she surpassed her instructor’s expectations. Upon graduation, Kourtnie secured a position at Messer Construction in 2010.

As a Messer employee, Kourtnie has become a rising star in a male-dominated field. In 2011 she traveled to San Antonio, Texas for the ABC National Craft Championship, where she competed with other apprentices from across the nation in written and hands-on contests of knowledge and skill. Kourtnie also continued her education while working full-time, graduating from the Carpentry Apprenticeship Program in 2015.

Kourtnie volunteers in local public schools with Allied Construction Industries and is a member of the Messer Women in Construction Committee. This summer, she will be the lead carpentry instructor for a popular youth program known as Rosie’s Girls. Rosie’s Girls is a 3-week summer day camp where girls entering 6th, 7th and 8th grades get hands-on instruction in STEM-related activities, carpentry, welding and auto repair. It is a safe, supportive, girl-centered environment that emphasizes leadership, teamwork and healthy body image. Instructors chosen for Rosie’s Girls are women professionals in their fields, as well as vibrant role models and mentors for girls.

Kourtnie desires to continue learning, and strives to advance to a leadership position at Messer. She also plans to continue giving back to the community and representing the success of the Community Action Agency.
Overcoming the disadvantages of poverty requires a comprehensive approach that addresses immediate life-sustaining needs and provides educational opportunities. CAA’s Community Services provides both, putting our clients on a pathway to a self-sufficient future.

Providing a Better Way
SUCCESS STORY

Demetrial Kendall is living proof that a healthy dose of determination and dedication can pay off and that it helps to be in the right place at the right time. For this North College Hill single mom the right place was the Cincinnati-Hamilton County Community Action Agency.

On a hot August day Demetrial visited the agency to get help paying her electric bill. While waiting in the lobby, Demetrial heard a woman talking about a manufacturing course. When she heard the woman say, “It takes a month to get the certification and you can get a job,” that was enough for her to walk across the hall to CAA’s Workforce Development Department.

“I was definitely skeptical. A job in manufacturing wasn’t in my plans at that time.” But after learning more about the Cincinnati Manufacturing Certificates (CMC) Program, Demetrial was hooked. At 39, Demetrial found herself back in the classroom for the 140-hour manufacturing class, while also holding down a full-time 3rd shift job. With three kids, juggling her new responsibilities was definitely a challenge, but with Demetrial’s dedication and determination, she succeeded.

A month after graduating from the manufacturing course, Demetrial attended a job fair and received an offer from ThyssenKrupp Bilstein Manufacturing that same day. She had achieved her goal of getting more than just another job; it was the beginning of a brand new career that she could be proud of. She has doubled her income and now has a retirement plan.

“I am able to live my life better. I don’t worry so much about how I’m going to pay my bills. I have money to work with now,” said Demetrial.

In November, Demetrial was promoted, given a raise and began training as a welder for the company. Welders are among the skilled labor force often cited as a critical but missing element in the nation’s manufacturing workforce. Recently, Demetrial was once again promoted and given the title Team Lead AfterMarket PRMC. She sent a note to the CAA Workforce Development staff to thank them “for giving me my life back. Everything has worked out even better than I thought it would.”
The Roosevelt Transitional Housing Program provides short-term housing for families who are transitioning from unstable living arrangements to self-sufficiency. 8 families received shelter and services.

The Home Energy Assistance Program (HEAP) provides assistance to families who are having difficulty paying their utility bills. There are three types of HEAP assistance available:

- Regular HEAP (year-round) provides assistance with any arrearage families may have accumulated on their utility bill. 11,508 households received assistance through regular HEAP.
- Emergency HEAP (November–March) helps families keep the heat on during the winter months. 4,297 households received assistance through Winter Crisis HEAP.
- Summer Crisis (July–August) helps families stay cool and keep the power on to ensure that refrigerated medicines are kept cold and other health-related equipment can continue to operate. 1,562 households received assistance through Summer Crisis HEAP.

14,950 households received assistance through the Percentage of Income Payment Plan Plus (PIPP). 385 households received assistance through Duke Electric and Gas Fuel Fund Credit.

Funding for the Home Energy Assistance Program is provided by the Ohio Department of Development and private resources.

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing this letter in support of the Summer Cooling Program in Ohio. This program allows our clients to live more comfortably in their homes. Many have heart and respiratory conditions. In order for them to tolerate the heat index, they need fans and air conditioners to keep their apartments and homes at a comfortable temperature. The seniors are leery of coming out into the neighborhood with the rise of heroin and other threats to their safety and remain “holed up” in their apartments the majority of the day.

One of our clients is an elderly man who is developmentally disabled. He has heart problems, diabetes and recently was diagnosed with colon cancer. He lives alone in a small apartment that would be unbearably warm without the electricity for his cooling devices. We are very grateful that he can be comfortable and is able to breathe easily in the heat and humidity we have currently been experiencing.

Thank you for the program and for Hamilton County Community Action Agency being able to send outreach workers to our health center. It is important since many of our clients have limited transportation.

Thanks,

Kathy Moses, RN, BA

GCMI's E-Camp
The Greater Cincinnati Microenterprise Initiative (GCMI) with the collaboration of Southwest Ohio Workforce Investment Board (SWOWIB) and Cincinnati Youth Collaborative's Jobs for Cincinnati Graduates (JCG) offered Entrepreneurial Camp (E-Camp) for the fourth year in a row.

E-Camp was a month-long experience that students from eight area public high schools learned how to formulate ideas, cultivate a business plan and market their product or service. GCMI did not stop there; all students received personal financial management education and learned how to develop team-building and leadership skills. At the end of the training, the graduating students participated in a Shark Tank-style business proposal competition. Key program outcomes and objectives:

Each student completed more than 80 hours of entrepreneurship training.

16 students participated in the development of team building, communication, problem solving, and critical thinking activities and training.

Each student presents their business concept.

Students receive personal financial education.

GCMI Elite Entrepreneurship Program
GCMI Elite helps small business owners properly implement their vision by providing training, financial education and supportive business services to potential and current business owners. Clients learn to focus their business management needs and develop and implement business plans. Clients gain a better understanding of branding, software systems and financial tools. GCMI Elite partners with industry professionals to offer accounting, marketing, and Information Technology (IT) coaching.

GCMI Entrepreneurial Training Academy (In Spanish)
For two years, this 8-week, 10 class course titled "Mi Negocio — Introduction to the World of Business" was well received by its six graduates. This series of all-Spanish classes is the first of its kind for the Cincinnati area.
SUCCESS STORY

After facing employment loss and gaining permanent custody of a relative’s children, Dennis Campbell humbly stepped into his new role as the stay-at-home-daddy and homemaker. With their new family of nine, Dennis and his wife, Melena, pondered over how to supplement their already strained income. The couple dreamed of helping children through support and positive impact and were both eager to start a new business. They decided to combine the two to start a licensed in-home child care provider business and Daddy’s Daycare was created.

As their new business became more successful, the Campbells moved Daddy’s Daycare to a facility that was easily accessible to their target audience and had the amenities needed to operate a child care program. As a full-service day care, Dennis and Melena realized they needed business training to stay competitive in a crowded field of competitors. They joined GCMI Entrepreneurial Training Academy, where they learned how to create a business plan that outlined how to organize and market their business, price their services, understand the financial risks and utilize available resources to expand the development of Daddy’s Daycare.

Through GCMI coaching and access to the CAA staff, the Campbells learned of a possible opportunity to partner with the CAA Early Head Start Program. In 2015 they applied for partnership and were granted a CAA Early Head Start Site partnership agreement.

Daddy’s Daycare has hired several parents who will no longer have to rely on public assistance. The daycare impacts over 100 children, and will be opening their third facility in Fall of 2015. The Campbells credit GCMI with their growing success saying, “The Greater Cincinnati Microenterprise Initiative gave us the spark we needed to focus on understanding the financial scope of properly operating a business.”
INDEPENDENT AUDITOR’S REPORT

To the Board of Directors of
Cincinnati - Hamilton County Community Action Agency
Cincinnati, Ohio

Report on the Financial Statements
We have audited the accompanying consolidated financial statements of Cincinnati - Hamilton Community Action Agency (C-HCCAA) (a nonprofit organization), which comprise the consolidated statement of financial position as of December 31, 2014, and the related consolidated statements of activities, functional expenses, and cash flows for the year then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements
Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these consolidated financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility
Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these consolidated financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the consolidated financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion
In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of Cincinnati - Hamilton County Community Action Agency as of December 31, 2014, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Other Matters
The financial statements of Cincinnati - Hamilton County Community Action Agency, as of and for the year ended December 31, 2013, were audited by other auditors whose report dated June 16, 2014, expressed an unmodified opinion on those financial statements.

Other Information
Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the consolidated financial statements as of and for the year ended December 31, 2014, as a whole. The accompanying schedule of expenditures of federal awards, as required by Office of Management and Budget Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations, and the schedule of indirect cost rates are presented for purposes of additional analyses and are not a required part of the financial statements. Such information is the responsibility of management and was derived from and relates directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the consolidated financial statements. The information as of and for the year ended December 31, 2014, has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the consolidated financial statements and certain additional procedures, including comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements or to the financial statements themselves, and other additional procedures in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. In our opinion, the information as of and for the year ended December 31, 2014, is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the financial statements as a whole.

Other Reporting Required by Government Auditing Standards
In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we have also issued our report dated June 17, 2015, on our consideration of Cincinnati - Hamilton County Community Action Agency's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements and other matters. The purpose of that report is to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over financial reporting and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on internal control over financial reporting or on compliance. That report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards in considering Cincinnati - Hamilton County Community Action Agency's internal control over financial reporting and compliance.
